

SOUTH CAROLINA BISHOP POTTER

Richmond Paper Refutes Race Mixture Statements.

CALLS HIM A SUPERSTITION

Declares the Moral Tone Is Cleaner in South Carolina Than in the Bishop's Diocese.

RICHMOND, Va., March 24.—Because he made a sneering remark about the morality of the South, Bishop Henry C. Potter, of New York, is given a broadside by the Richmond News-Leader, which declares, incidentally, that the moral tone in South Carolina is infinitely higher than in Bishop Potter's own diocese.

The editorial is the result of a statement credited to Bishop Potter to the effect that, in view of the prevalence of miscegenation in the South the pose of lofty and superior virtue on the part of its people anywhere had in it an element equally comic and pathetic.

A Pet Superstition.

After quoting this, the News Leader says: "Bishop Potter, of New York, is one of the pet superstitions of this country. He is part of the general New York superstition."

"Because New York is big most of us assume that any man who becomes prominent there must be a very large and great man, indeed, we persistently forget that as many fakirs, humbugs and lightweights rattle and swell around in large places in New York as anywhere else in the world."

"As for Bishop Potter, he has said and done as many silly things as any old gentlemanman, and his moral tone is as bad as his morals, in some respects, are defective, his judgment bad, and his arrogance extreme."

Refutes Miscegenation.

Regarding the remark on the prevalence of miscegenation in the South, attributed to Bishop Potter, the News Leader remarks: "An accusation like this cannot be sustained or disproved by statistics or affidavits. It can be considered only in the light of general and obvious facts."

"Virtue is not a thing of sections or of countries. The good are good and the bad are bad everywhere, and wherever human nature finds the affection and passions of men and women stray in forbidden paths."

South Carolina Defended.

"One thing, however, is certain and plain. That is that the moral tone is infinitely cleaner and the social standards are infinitely higher in South Carolina than in Bishop Potter's diocese. Certainly a woman divorced from her husband and married to another man inside of twenty-four hours would not be received in respectable society that lives in the South. Yet a woman who did that very thing is a leader of Newport's most exalted society."

"Nobody knows the secret annals of vice, but every observer who has met and known the people of New York and any Southern State knows that in the South vastly less filth is talked and written than in New York. The natural and inevitable promptings of life in the South are very much cleaner."

"The woman whose conduct and conversation are so distinctly good and bad in the highest and the lowest of the exclusive society of his own community."

Ready to Prove He Is Wrong.

After pointing out that legal miscegenation is impossible in the South, because intermarriage of persons of different races is forbidden by statute, the newspaper denounces Bishop Potter's alleged charge against the social life of the South as false, and adds: "We will offer good evidence to convict him of falsehood if he is willing to dare the issue. We will put on the stand the Protestant Episcopal clergy of the whole South, from bishops to deacons. They live among the people and know them, and have ample opportunity for knowing their life. We assume that some of them, at least, are men who are not afraid to tell the truth in any circumstances or at any cost."

Acceptable Evidence.

"For New York we will take the combined evidence of the clergy, the courts, and the newspapers."

"We invite Bishop Potter to take the evidence or to join with us in taking it. If it sustains his accusations we will confess, with shame, that frankly, that he is right. If they contradict him we will be willing to confess that he is wrong. We are not interested in an outrageous and infamous scandal and slander? We do not care whether he attributes to ignorance, carelessness, or malice, or to a mixture of the three."

"If he evades a simple and honest test like this, he will be convicted of having disgraced himself by a wholesale slander unworthy of a gentleman, and of having brought shame and injury upon his own church, as far as his jurisdiction extends."

Murderer of Guerley Pays Death Penalty

Lewis Lyons, Who Shot and Killed New Orleans District Attorney, Hanged Today—Had Tried Suicide.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 24.—Lewis J. Lyons, murderer of District Attorney J. Wood Guerley, was hanged between 12 and 1 o'clock this morning in the yard of the parish prison.

The crime was committed on the morning of July 20, 1903, in the office of Mr. Guerley. Lyons fired four shots into the body of his victim and then shot himself in the head with suicidal intent. He recovered, but the sight of his right eye was destroyed.

At his trial the defense of insanity was urged. The case finally reached the supreme court. The board of pardons was asked to commute his sentence, but it refused.

About five years ago Lyons was arrested for stealing a diamond pin from Dan Carroll, a sugar broker. Lyons brought an action for damages against Carroll and two detectives, but lost his suit. He claimed that Mr. Guerley and his partner, D. C. Meilen, did not properly handle that case and from time to time annoyed Mr. Guerley. On one occasion he challenged him to fight a duel.

GEORGE WASHINGTON BOYS HOLD SMOKER

High Old Time at National Rifles Army in Which All Classes Take a Hand.

One of the most interesting events of the year at the George Washington University was the smoker held last night in National Rifles Army. Preceding the smoker there was a parade, in which some 600 or 800 students participated.

Forming at the university buildings, on Fifteenth street, under the leadership of Jackson Morris as grand marshal, and accompanied by a section of the United States Marine Band, the Buff and Blue men marched down Pennsylvania avenue, giving their yells and singing songs, to Ninth street, and thence to the hall on G street.

In the absence of President Charles W. Needham, who was detained in New York, Dr. King, of the medical department, made the welcoming address, and read letters of regret from President Roosevelt, who was invited to attend, and Dr. Needham, L. S. Pepper, president of the third-year class, was master of ceremonies.

The entertainment of the evening consisted of a pleasant visit from De Wolf Hopper, who came to the smoker after his performance at the Columbia, pictures of the football men who won their "W's," and various other interesting "stunts."

The committees in charge of the affair were under the general supervision of W. F. R. Phillips, dean of the medical school. The committees were: Executive, Roy C. Hefebower, chairman; E. C. Stevenson, B. G. Steenerson, Jackson Morris, Harry E. Collins, and Robert Lowe; advertising, B. G. Steenerson, James H. Price, M. E. Harrison, Meade Moore, and R. B. Atkinson; program, E. C. ## MADMAN AND MONK IN A DEADLY DUEL

Desperate Fight With Poniards in Monastery Cell.

ILL PRIOR A SPECTATOR

Pri Is Killed by Man Who Accuses Him of His Sister's Betrayal.

ROME, March 24.—A deadly duel was fought in the famous old Carmelite monastery, at Florence, between a madman and a monk.

Father Bernardo, the prior, was lying ill in his cell talking with a monk named Cellerini, when Giuseppe Vigorzi, a regular attendant at the monastery church, rushed in, and shouting, "You are my sister's betrayer! Defend yourself if you are no coward!" threw a poniard at Cellerini's feet.

Cellerini, who was forced to fight, received a fatal thrust, and as he fell dying on the floor his assailant uttered a shriek of triumph and rushed to the cell along the subway connecting it with the church, which he entered while service was in progress.

Before he was overpowered he stabbed another monk to death.

A GOOD DEAL OF NONSENSE

About "Blood Purifiers" and "Tonics."

Every drop of blood, every bone, nerve and tissue in the body can be renewed in but one way, and that is from wholesome food properly digested. There is no other way, and the idea that a medicine in itself can purify the blood or supply new tissues and strong nerves is ridiculous and on a par with the fol-de-rol that dyspepsia or indigestion is a germ disease, or that other fallacy, that a weak stomach which refuses to digest food can be made to do so by irritating and inflaming the bowels by pills and cathartics.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure indigestion, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive principles which weak stomachs lack, and unless the deficiency of pepsin and diastase is supplied, it is useless to attempt to cure stomach trouble by the use of "tonics," "pills," and "cathartics" which have absolutely no digestive power, and their only effect is to give a temporary stimulation.

One grain of the active principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3,000 grains of meat, eggs, and similar foods, and experiments have shown that they will do this in a glass bottle at proper temperature, but, of course, are much more effective in the stomach.

There is probably no remedy so universally used as Stuart's Tablets, because it is not only the sick and ailing, but well people who use them at every meal to insure perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

People who enjoy fair health take Stuart's Tablets as regularly as they take their meals, because they want to keep well. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do both: they prevent indigestion and they remove it where it exists. The regular use of Stuart's Tablets will demonstrate their merit and efficiency better than any other argument.
